Resilient, engaging, charismatic, and genuine describe Jeremy Siegel Steffen. However, it is his altruistic nature and zealous advocacy that make him truly outstanding. Jeremy contributes tirelessly to the college community through his representation on the DSPS Advisory Committee and his participation in The Well, where he promotes wellness, self-care and respect for all. Jeremy is a communication studies major destined to have a significant impact on others. Integrity is a quality that Jeremy possesses and exhibits in all that he does. SBCC and DSPS thank Jeremy for his service, dedication, and inspiration.
