

Santa Barbara City College

Associate Degree Nursing

Cost estimation for the ADN program

ITEM	Approx Cost
Textbooks	1,500
Optional books that students can purchase to assist them with their nursing studies.	1,300
Enrollment Fees 38 total units at $46/unit for California residents Additional Non-Resident Tuition: Out of State $285/unit International $285/unit	1,748
SBCC health fee & transportation fee (mandatory fees) $50 per semester	200
Parking permit $35 per semester (optional)	120
Insurance and misc. student fees $65/semester for four semesters	260
Uniform and tabard from $240 and up (includes shoes, top, pants, nametag, sweater, jacket)	240
Stethoscope - ranges from $25.00 to $250.00 each.	100
Misc. Entrance Requirements, includes physical exam, Tb testing, immunizations, background check, drug screening	500
Misc. graduation fee to apply for licensing exam and preparation for the exam. (Costs begin at $350.00 and up depending on amount paid for review and travel.)	350
CPR (generally valid for two years)	65
Total Estimated Cost for the 4 semesters of the ADN Program is $6,500 or more

Housing: If a student plans to move to the Santa Barbara area prior to beginning the program, it is advised to look into housing early in the process, as rents are high in the area, and the rental market is somewhat tight. Santa Barbara City College does not provide student housing; although information is compiled on a website to assist the student in finding housing:
<http://www.sbccc.edu/housing/>

Commuting: Students who plan to commute to SBCC need to factor in morning traffic and how that will affect their timely arrival to class and clinicals.